First, the new chief will recommend at an early date the amalgamation of the two departments of Federal prohibition agents and general agents in Illinois and all other States where the two groups are now functioning. Second, he proposes a sweeping reorganization of all Federal enforcement units where politics is hampering the work replacing with new men politically appointed prohibition agents whose work is criticised.

The oath-taking was a simple quarter of an hour. Silence fell upon the Reichstag chamber, packed to the limit with members, confidently expected there will be a government officials, diplomats, journalists and hundreds of others when Reichstag President Loebe, a few minutes before noon, suddenly strode up to the deak surmounting the central platform. A few paces behind him came the massive figure of Von Hindenburg. He was obviously embarrassed but magnificent in his towering bulk and stern dignity. He took his place behind the deak beaped with hydrangeas and draped with the German republican colors, Communistic Reichstag members, men and women, shouted all together "Down with the Monarchists. Long live the soviet republic!"

Then they rose from their seats turned their backs on Hindenburg and marched out of the building. Hindenburg and marched out of the building. Hindenburg never even looked toward them. He continued 'vo stand before the desk staring straight ahead. His granite face was almost expressionless. He wore the regular formal civilian to g g e r y — a black frock coat and trouvers, black saint to and black patent leather shoes. OIL MONOPOLY PROPOSED

The creation of some sort of oil monopoly, while guardedly referred to in the official decument of the Minister, was made clear to the finance committee during the informal talk which followed the reading of the declaration when M. Calliaux said: "I would seek, without bureaucratic organization in any shape, participation of any kind and without bureaucratic organization in any shape, participation profitable for the treasury in certain sense profits."

Concerning indirect taxation, beyond increasing the tobacce duties, M. Caillaux only proposed "to suppose certain leaks and adjust certain tariffs."

The statement of the Finance Minister throughout is considered in some quarters as vague and as apparently at times, deliberately so.

4th: The block of land bounded by Thirteenth and Four-teenth, Harrison and Alice Streets, on which the Hotel Oakland stands, which at the present time is Oakland's leading hotel. contains 60,000 square feet, valued at $17.50 per square foot. or $1,050,000;

5th: The property on the north side of Fourteenth Street, extending from Alice Street to Jackson Street, having a frontage of 300 feet on Fourteenth Street, with a frontage of 220 feet on Alice Street, and 354 feet on Jackson Street, marked in black on the diagram, belongs to me. It contains 89,450 square feet, and I will sell same as a whole, until June 1st, 1925, for the sum of $850,000, on the following terms:

$250,000 - Cash $600.000 - On or before two years with interest at 6%, payable monthly; $50,000 deposit down, and this days to be allowed to search the title, close the deal, and pay the balance of $200,000 which completes the first payment, including the $50,000 deposit. This price is $9.50 per square foot slightly more than half of the conservatively appraised value of the land on which the Hotel Oakland stands, diagonally opposite. from my property, as shown on the diagram.

I will sell my property to a big-business man, or a group of big-business men, for a big hotel, a big department store, a big anything that the property is adapted to, and it has many possible uses, as it is in the heart of Oakland's business district, with greater days ahead; but after June 1, 1925, if I do not sell it as a whole for big business use before that time, I will subdivide it and sell it for small business use. I will not hold it as a whole and block development, and when once subdivided, it will be an expensive job for "all the king's horses and all the king's men to get this block together again." It would be impossible today to gather under one ownership this block of land, if it were held by several different owners, for the sum of $1,250,000, and I doubt if it could be gathered together for that sum.

Imagine the attractiveness of this piece of land for a hotel structed covering the 300 feet on Fourteenth Street could be conarea of land 154 feet on Jackson Streets, leaving a 20 foot entrance into an sarage purposes in conjunction with the hotel, department store or

TROJAN TRACKMEN MAKE FINAL BOW

Coach Dean Cromwell's U. S. C. Cinderpath Athletes in Last Appearance of Season at Coliseum Next Saturday

Our last chance to see the U. S. C. track team in action here comes this week at the Coliseum when the annual Southern California championships of the A. A. U. will be staged. This will be a great meet, in all probability the best in point of performance, of the entire year. Then again, if U. S. C. should win the I. C. A. A. A. meet at Philadelphia, wouldn't you feel foolish if you hadn't seen the boys who did it, on their final appearance here before going East.

Of particular interest will be off with a rush and in which therethe showing of the Trojans who is something doing every minute and sometimes more often even boys who are also to journey away abide by the terms of the contract originally signed and would toss a coin for the choice of the "spot" on the card.

According to information and Mandell should be the last event on the card.

Hudkins took the position that the selves were not so much to blame for the announcement, that they would insist on the "top spot," as were some of their well-meaning but misguided friends. It appears that Clyde listened to these friends who made him believe that the fighters, rather than the fans who attend boxing shows, should be considered above, all things.

The amicable agreement came after a long conference between the promoter and Ace's brothermanager. Donald was insistent that Hudkins live up to the letter of his contract, which called for a toss of a coin ro decide whether Hudkins and O'Brien or Salvadore about May 15.

Luxurious, durable floors-

Proved again and again—that Bonded Floors are right for every type of building. Apartment houses, as well as banks, office buildings, stores and institutions, have invested in the permanent beauty of Bonded Floors.

Here in Los Angeles, for instance, the wide range of Bonded Floors is illustrated by installations in the Afton Arms Apartments, University Library, Bank of Italy, and many others.

Consideration for beauty and utility in equal degree explains the ever increasing popularity of Bonded Floors. Resilient durability is inherent in the materials; further insured by scientific installation by skilled workmen; and backed by a Surety Bond issued by the U. S. Fidelity and Guaranty Company.

Whether you want a new resilient floor or a new installation over a worn-out floor, let us tell you about Bonded Floors.

Mrs. Fitzmaurice Starts For Europe But Climbs Down Rope Ladder When She Finds It Out

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

NEW YORK, May 12 .- Mrs. Marjory Fitzmaurice of Los Angeles came very near to starting on a voyage to Europe today. In fact, she was started but didn't know it, and when the situation dawned on her she was in a terrible dilemma whether to make the journey or bobbed and wobbled at the steamer's side way down the bay.

EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

In England and Wales, the captain add, in 1923 the police had only seventy-one cases of murder to prosecute.

Men of education are called to fill positions of responsibility in the English police service, he asserted. They enter the service at an early age and devote their lives to it as in the military and diplomatic departments.

Sir Robert Peacock, Chief Constable at Manchester, made a plea for prison reform in connection with the punishment of confirmed criminals. Prisoners should have an earning capacity, he said, equal to the expense of their keep by the government. In the case of a married man, he said, a portion of his earnings should go to the upkeep of his family.

Gen. E. O'Duffy, commissioner of civic guard. Dublin, reported that with knowledge gained by attendance at the last international convention he had built up an efficient police force for the Irish Free State.

The Irish police officer is not allowed to carry any weapon, he gaid, but must rely upon moral persuasion for the apprehension of his man.

An ovation was given Johann cheber, realize president at Viensenberg and the fill positions of the same as that used the relationship of young than the relationship of young file of the president at Viensenberg the possible presentation of the military and diplomatic departments.

Woodworth Quoted in Denial Concerning Negotiations

DETROIT (Mich.) May 12.— Charles P. Spicer, vice-president of the Detroit Trust Company and one of the stockholders of the Dodge Brothers, Inc., issued a statement today in answer to statements reported to have been made yesterday in New York by Fred L. Woodworth, collector of internal revenue, at Detroit. The trust company acted as trustee for the Dedge Brothers in the recent sale of its property.

"It is contrary to our policies,"
"It is contrary to our policies,"
Mr. Spicer says, "in the administration of estates and trusts in our care to discuss publicly the affairs and business pertaining to such trusts, but in view of the interview with Mr. Woodworth we think this occasion justifies an exception.

"The interview states that the agents handling the sale of Dodge Brothers committed 'an error in business' procedure' and falled to consult their tax attorneys until the deal had gone too far and that as a result of this the Dodge heirs will have to pay $6,000,000 additional taxes."

Mr. Spicer continues: "From the beginning of the negotiations in January, last, the representatives of the stockholders advised with their attorneys and tax experts respecting the form of sale to take.

"The price and terms of sale, gross and net, were and are eminently eatisfactory to the stockholders and to all parties in interest."

Mr. Spicer quotes Mr. Woodworth on his return here this afternoon as saying that this conversation in New York covered only the amount of the tax involved and that he has no knowledge of the details of the negotiations preceding and during the male of the property to Dillon, Read & Co., and made no state-

PUBLISHER'S WILL TO BE CONTESTED

Bequest of J. C. Eastman to Employees Attacked by Seven First Cousins

CHICAGO, May 12. — Seven first cousins of John C. Eastman, late owner and publisher of the Chicago Evening Journal, today took initial steps to content his will, which disposed of his newspaper and the remaining estate to three of his employees.

An attorney appearing before the Probate Court today announced that the cousins would institute action to set aside the will. Judge F: W. Elliott then transferred the, proceedings to Probate Judge Horner, who will hear the matter on the 20th inst. Under the probate Judge Mr. East-

From a Captive Balloon 1000 Feet in the Air these views of Los Angeles business district were shot yesterday by a Times cameraman. The balloon, which is anchored at Fifth and Figueroa streets, had drifted across to Fourth and Flower streets when the photos were taken. Upper left, looking southeast, shows in the upper left-hand corner the new Hall of Justice and the Hall of Records. The Times Building with its tower may be seen to the right of the Hall of Records. Upper right-hand photo shows in the foreground the partially completed Library Building, the Biltmore Hotel and Pershing Square directly in front of it, and the Bible Institute to its right. Directly above this caption is a view to the south, with Sixth and flower and Sixth and Figueroa in the right foreground. The double depth photo at left shows captive baloon at its anchorage. come-tax purposes, the profits realized upon the particular class of transaction under consideration," declared Mr. Hogan. "Field agents of the revenue department, in view of the ambiguity of the revenue acts and lack of definite ruilings by the Treasury Department, had recommended in the computation of profits upon sales of property handled through subdivision trusts, that the trusts should be treated as separate taxable entitles, and the trustees.

"This interpretation of the law was based largely upon the fact that under the declarations of trust the trustee is usually charged with the duty of collecting all the proceeds of sales and disbursing a portion of such proceeds in the payment of improvements, indebtalness, agents' commissions and other items of expense in connection with the development of the property. This, the field agents contended, was in effect an accumulation of income, and under the revenue acts, beginning with the act of 1916, any income which is accumulated in trust and held for future distribution is taxable to the trust as such."

The contentions of the trust companies were that, inasmuch as they were acting only in a representa-semination of linears, and upning with hear of 1115 arg for

The Richfield Oil Company has completed plans for the construction of a twelve-mile trunk pipe

tion of a twelve-mile trunk pipe line from the Athens field to its refinery at Hynes, it was announced yesterday by Clarence Fuller, president and general manager of the company. The line will be laid with six-inch pipe, and will cost approximately $50,000 to construct.

The Richfield has under contract in the Athens field about 4000 barrels a day, Mr. Fuller reports, besides a considerable prospective production from wells now being drilled and to be drilled by the United Oil Company, an affiliated organization. The United, in its recent acquisition of the properties of the Pacfic Petroleum Company, took over one producing well, one drilling well and considerable undrilled acreage in the Rosecrans field.

After Big Production

Inspired by the phenomenal production achieved by the Association of the Market and the Inspired by the Petroleum Midway Company in their deeper wells in the Inspiewood field, the Petroleum Securities Company is deepening its four producing wells on the most productive part of the district, according to official reports. Cone Nos. 1, 2, 2 and 4 making an average of about 300 barrels a day, have been taken off production and are being drilled through the oil zone, from which they were flowing. These wells were completed before the Associated and Petroleum Midway demonstrated the full thickness of the oil sand and consequently stopped drilling when they had penetrated only the upper part of the zone. By going on down, the Petroleum Securities expects to increase the output of the wells to 1500 or 1600 barrels a day in framework of the sone. Making Test Making Test

The United Oil Company is preparing to make a test in its Emilia No. 1, on the Bixby No. 2 lease, in the northwest section of the Signal Hill field. The well is the northwestern outpost of the field, and is said to have found a good oil sand at 4633 feet. Casing was set at this depth, and yesterday the crew started drilling out the plug preparatory to making a test.

To Resame Work

The United Oil Company is preparing to resume operations on its well in the Maricopa Flats field. Southeast of the Bush well of the Transport Oil Company, which for almost a year made 3000 barrels a day. The United well is down 4455 feet, and has been idle for some time.

The well is near the Standard Oil Company's Ross well which found 2" degree gravity oil in small cannities, and after deepening to 4967 feet, picked up a good-looking sand which it is now preparing to test. The United expects to get a productive sand at between 4600 and 4700 feet.

Run your tongue across your teeth, and you will feel a film . . . a viscous coat that covers them. That film is an enemy to your teeth-

The armed blockade recently put into effect against marine rum-runners on both coasts must have the hearty approval of all law-respecting people, whatever their views of prohibition. Law is law and bootlegging foat or ashore, is its defiance, and the impudence of the rum fleet has become un-bearable. The nation will support whatever easures are necessary to bring it to a stop

The blockaders appear to be in earnus and they also appear to be successful. Less than 10 per cent of the previous supply of intoxicants, it is estimated, is now being landed on the Atlantic Coast. But if this effectiveness should not continue, as the rum-runners bring faster boats and newer tricks into use, there will be no occasion for discouragement. If the Coast Guard can-not handle the situation—and it has by no neans exhausted as yet all its resource there is no reason why the Navy canno loyed, as it has been employed in the past, in the suppression of piracy and freebooting. The rum operations are nothing less.

There is obviously a limit beyond which the rum smugglers will not go—the point where smuggling ceases to be profitable. When men are fighting for a principle or in efense of their homes they disregard expense; but the rum-runners are not interested in principle; they are interested only in profits, and they will risk neither their boats nor their lives unless there is money

TROTZKY THE ENIGMA
Trotzky, in power or in exile, dictator or craving petitioner, ragamufan soldier and freebooter or lord of a castle on the Mediterranean, is always the pletter. With Lenin he was the alternate arm of the dumwirate, then the third of a triumvirate and now fourth of a quartet. Foremost militant antagonist of militarism at the birth of Bolshevism, now the generalissimo of the Bolshevist army; a composite of contradictions reaching out for the moon and catching a shadow; that is Trotzky, that is Bolshevism.

Stable government lies in the steady con-inuation of a well-oiled, smoothly running machine of even tenor throughout the year, months ago Trotzky was seen on his knees before the triumvirate which overthrew his power to replace it with an authority more The Pullman flyers which are to operate between Boston and St. Paul will carry about eight passengers at a time—in addition to nearly a ton of mail and express. No one, I imagine, quite believed PEN PO the delicate contention that prettyand-21 would have preferred to drink the stuff—there are so many more comfortable and expeditious methods of transporting one's self

So the issue must have been upon a wife's right, under certain displeasing conditions, to take a damp and acidulated vengeance against a gentleman she recently loved devotedly, by branding his face forever and possibly blinding

Of course, jilted ladies out of wedlock have adopted the method against false lovers in the past, with more or less public sympathy, but even these had recently adopted the neater, kindlier mode of the handy bullet. And, since the modes are so often set by this type of lady, wives who were formerly content with poisoned flypaper and doped breakfast coffee for shedding annoying husbands, accepted the newer and swifter

Mrs. Darby Day, Jr., was, therefore, not only flying in the face of fashion, but actually staging a somewhat dublous revival. After all, "to excuse is to so cuse." and an acquittal would have signified that a modern jury did not think that women were ca-pable of using their new-won free-dom with logic and discretion. And, above all, were not responsible cit-

As it is, they have at least reluctantly agreed that Mrs. Day knew what she was doing, that it was a peculiarly reprehensible thing to do and that she ought to be punished for it exactly as though she had been a man. There never would have been any doots about our opinion of a man who perpetrated such a crime.

Perhaps mother-in-law was difficult, but eras of men have suffered difficult mothers-in-law without trying to blind and brand their wives.

out trying to blind and brand their wives.

Of course, it was pleasant, under those old oppressive conditions for women, to feel that juries tried to make up in excusable sentiment and gallantry for the disabilities of our sex under the law. If we were foolish, unbalanced, treacherous and murderous in those days under certain aggravating conditions, we were, after all, only justifying the law's opinion of us,

I can't imagine anything more disgusting to modern emancipated womanhood than a verdict in such a case which said in effect, "Oh, she is a woman and, therefore, a silly, treacherous fool, incapable of decent, sportsmanlike instincts, so we mustn't be hard on the poor thing."

But to wail excuses, to trade on youth and prettiness, to deny and plead and grovel and weep and appeal, that, I say, is to set the clock back for all womanhood.

St. Louis, Mo., May 13.—
Three-year-old Virginia Dishon is dead, after a three-day fight for her life.
When she was brought to the City Hospital, severely burned, it was said that she could not live three hours.
The child was burned as a result of a gasoline explosion. Her mother had left a pan of gasoline near the place where the little girl was playing. The vapor traveled to a lighted gas jet in an adjoining room and the explosion followed.

Uncle Remus Gives Listeners Benefit of Outing

Pacific States Electric Hosts During Afternoon

Brilliant Programs Enjoyed by Artists, Audience

BY CLAIRE MELLONINO from labor and business, are the new implements Uncle Remus has adopted as his form of expression, and incidentally the means of filling an occasional caloric void. While exploring the streams of Northern California in connection with his piscatorial activities, Uncle Remus found what he considers fisherman's paradise. And, of course, when the folks in that vicinity discovered the radio jester, expressions of gratitude followed for what KHJ had contributed to their lives, with the result that the Zainbow Fishing Club of Bishop, in Inyo county, came to KHJ to introduce themselves to Radioland and extend a hand of greeting to those who yearly answer the lure of trout streams.

the streams and lakes adjacent to Bishop.

The flakes of gold which the sun peering through the pine trees, drops upon the swiftly moving streams, sparkled over the entire evening, and left everyone enriched. The program arranged by Uncle Remus, who in private life is E. M. Bonnell, presented the Russian Gypsy Trio, Angel City Four Male Quartet, Gladys-Terrell, soprano; Karl Brandenburg, tenor; Benjamin F. Sears, Maggie O'Bheal and Fred M. Mitchell.

The Russian Gypsy Trio, composed of Chico de Verde, its talented director and violinist, Mischarder, 'cellist, and William Pestounoff, pianist, with their flery and romantic gypsy melodies, provided a delightful and appropriate feature.

rounded out an evening of excellent entertainment by contributing the type of ballad for which he has acquired a wide popularity.

AFTERNOON HOSTS

The afternoon audiences were the guests of the Pacific States Electric Company, who provided Nicholas Ochi Albi, well-known 'cellist and member of the Los Angeles Philharmonic Orchestra; Les Rosece, who, though termed the "Rag Man of KHJ." never gives a ragged performance; Grace Currey and her goldeh harp, and Arthur Raymond Hill, who was the original model for the popular figure, the Shiek.

Snappy dance music with an irressistible swing was generously served during the noon hour by Major and his Forum Roof Ballroom orchestra, interspersed with three plano solos by Wesley B. Tourteilotte.

From 7:30 to $ p.m. the Piggly Wiggly Girls monopolized the attention of Radicland with a musicale of semiclassics.

Chatterton, in "Manna," is Favorite Here

Thomas Chatterton, whose work s "Nellie" O'Brien in Olga Printz au's play, "Manna," at the Philharmonic Auditorium, in one of the harmonic Auditorium, in one of the outstanding characterizations of the play, is an actor of experience. Chatterton was in stock in Indianapolis when Fred J. Butler, then directing for Morosco at the Alcazar in San Francisco, found him in 1910. He brought the handsome, magnetic young actor to the Coast, and Chatterton immediately made good with San Francisco audiences. He was a great favorite there for several years, but finally succumbed to the lure of the Southland and moved to Los Angeles.

the Southland and moved to Los Angeles.

His popularity here has been just as widespread and enduring. For some time he played in support of Edward Everett Horton at the Majestic Theater, taking a wide variety of parts and doing them all well. One of his notable recent characterizations was as the gentle and philosophic old steward, the "halfway" in "Outward Bound." He has also done sheriffs and bad men and accomplished scoundrels and heroes, all with the same faithfulness and attention to detail which makes the characterization authoritation.

of eltering and falsifying public records. He will be sentenced Friday.

A law passed in 1923 provides, it was said, that a man found guilty probation and that any sentences imposed must be served consecutively. It is declared that Judge Crail has no eption in the case and must sentence Floyd to one to ten years on sach of the others. The jury was out from 11 am yesterday to 4:45 p.m.

Ployd was noted for the severity of his court for violations of the severy penalty for speeding. The jury was out from 11 am yesterday to 4:45 p.m.

Ployd was noted for the severity of his court for seal in heart of the consecution of the court seal to have disclosed that only a small portion of the money collected was being a fine of $200 or more. and to have disclosed that only a small portion of the money collected was being a fine of $200 or more. and to have disclosed that only a small portion of the money collected was being turned in to the Culvey City tinvestigators seized Floyd a bottom out and many others changed, it was said. The provided for the second-hand sales, tag days and school entertainments they raised divery penalty for purchase the bust and though the medium of severy laws fine a species in the record was falsed. The provided provided that the court swore the fine entered in the record was said.

Attorneys Vergs and Cooney, who represented Floyd, asked that he be admitted to ball pending sentence. Suspended."

Attorneys Vergs and Cooney, who represented Floyd, asked that he be admitted to ball pending sentence, but Judge Crail denied the prosecution of the school and the colors of well. This method of procedure, according to oil men, involves the setting of a single string of casing which serves the purpose both of shutting off the water in the well and admitting the oil below the water-bearing formation. If successful, the method is said to be efficient, but if the water is not shut off the oil sone may be flooded and may suffer considerable demage.

Following Crumpton's notification, the Mining Bureau disapproved the proposal and recommended another method of procedure. According to officials of the bureau, the Petroleum Midway disregarded the recommendation, and set the combination casing.

Yesterday afternoon it was efficially reported that the bureau had ordered the Petroleum Midway Company to correct the condition. Compliance with this order means that the casing must be given by the given of $11 each. Prize-winners are anneunced on the screen of the single school, and music by the Boye factures of the permit space for advertising signs has been perfected in Germany.

off with a boom last night the thirty-day membership campaign of the Los Angeles Masonic Club. It took place in the Alexandria Hotel, where the club has had headquarters during the three years of its existence.

Jugglers, negro dancers, musical revues, harpists, acrobats, planists and other actors and acts kept the program moving fast under the direction of Nat (Hokum) Farnum of the West Coast Theaters. Charles V. Means managed the party. The club has about 2000 members and it is hoped to increase the number to 3500 and then close the list. A new four-story home for the club on Grand avenue between Sixth and Seventh streets is to be ready for occupancy in October.

telephone message several days ago, Federal Department of Justice agents yesterday arrested J ited States Coast Guard cutter Shawnee, on a perjury indictment from San Francisco growing out of the trial and conviction a month

Dobson is said by Federal of-ficials in Los Angeles to have been placed on the stand by the de fense and to have perjured himself while under cross-examination regarding the capture of the ship quadra, laden with a rich cargo of liquor from Vancouver.

The Quadra was captured by the Shawnee early in January of this year while endeavoring to land its valuable cargo. Four of the officers of the Quadra and the rumring's agent in the Bay City were brought to trial.

Debson took the stand on March 24, last, and following conviction of the accused men he dropped from sight. A Federal grand jury indictment charging perjury was returned against him and he has been a fugitive from justice for a menth.

been a fugitive from justice for a menth.

When appraised of Dobson's whereabouts in a Los Angeles apartment-house, local Department of Justice agents placed him under surveillance and instituted inquiry of any charges pending against him in San Francisco. The complaint against him was sworn to by Ralph H. Colvin, first assistant to the local agent of the Department of Justice.

Dobson walved removal precedings before United States Commissioner Turney and will be taken hack to San Francisco at once.

FRENCH SAVANT WILL GIVE LECTURES HERE

mathematics at the College de France, who is lecturing in the United States under the auspices of the Institute of International Education, will give three lectures at Berkeley Hall, University of California, Southern Branch, next week, it was announced yesterday by E. R. Hedrick of the Bouthern Branch faculty. Prof. Hadamard is a mathematician of wide repute, and is a member of the French Academy. His lectures will be given as a series, the subject being the "Huyghens" Principle." They will be on Monday, 3 p.m., and Tuesday at 10 a.m. and 3 p.m. Prof. Hadamard has been lecturing at middle western universities for some weeks. After leaving Lea Angeles he will visit at Leland Stanford, Jr., University and at the University of California, Berkeley. He lectures in English.

CONSTIPATION means WEAKNESS

Constipation is practically universal among civilized hu-man beings. It is a national curse causing inefficiency and physical unpreparedness. It causes disease, premature old age, lessens endurance and resistance, and many times fatal age, lessens endurance and resistance, and many times latal illness is directly traceable to its obnoxious results. The clear eye, healthy look, vim, vigor and vitality can be had only when the bowels are free and are moving regularly.

Dr. Caldwell's

SYRUP PEPSIN

promptly relieves consupation. It is not a bitter medicine nor a griping, nauseating, uncomforfable physic. It is a pleasing liquid combination of Egyptian senna, pepsin and aromatics that Dr. Caldwell, with his long and extensive practice, found effective and an aid to Nature in performing her proper functions when the bowels were mistreated through improper food, lack of exercise, and indifference to physical sanitation.

The first dose will gently ease the bowels to action and as Nature resumes her proper functions, the dose may be gradually decreased. Yourbowels abouid act at least twice daily. It they do not, you need Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Persist. 10,000,000 bottles sold annually prove its effectiveness. Used nationally over 30 years. It is sald everywhere medicine is sold-and guaranteed. Try it at our risk. Your druggist will esture your money if it fails to do as promised.

WILCOX AND SHULER TO FACE COURT

Criminal Action Follows Complaint in Operation of Film School

Arthur R. Roberts, also known as Bot Wilcox, and Daniel Shuler yesterday were charged with faise advertising and operating an employment agency without a license from the State Department of Labor. The complaint, Issued by Deputy City Prosecutor Friedman, was signed by Louise Hickman of $16 West Thirty-fith Place, and sworn to before Police Judge Chambers.

They were arrested last night They were arrested last night and later released on $600 bail

The criminal action against the

The criminal action against the man is the result of an investigation by the State liabor office, which culminated in a hearing last week when it was charged that Wilcox and Shuler are operating the Hollywool Studio Exchange, an asserted film make-up school, in the Knickerbocker Building, 643 South Olive street, without proper license.

During the hearing Miss Hickman and other "students" of the school testified that they were promised employment in the films and were given the assurance that they were "just the type" needed. Several of the girls declared they had been taken to Hollywood on the pretext that they would meet directors and were insuited. Wilcox, according to the State Department files, was cited some time age for operating an alleged employment agency without a license. No action was taken when he is said to have agreed to discontinue operations.

George D. Marcy, manager of the Los Angeles branch of the Na-tional Surety Company, will adtional Surety Company, will address the regular meeting of the Los Angeles Bank Credit Men's Association at the Alexandria Hotel, the 14th inst., on the subject. "Financing the Contractor."

Owing to the importance of the subject a large attendance is expected, and those desiring reservations should secure them before Thursday noon.

CONSTIPATION means WEAKNESS

Constipation is practically universal among civilized human beings. It is a national curse causing inefficiency and physical unpreparedness. It causes disease, premature old age, lessens endurance and resistance, and many times fatal illness is directly traceable to its obnoxious results. The clear eye, healthy look, vim, vigor and vitality can be had only when the bowels are free and are moving regularly.

Dr. Caldwell's

SYRUP PEPSIN

The Family Laxative

—promptly relieves constipation. It is not a bitter medicine nor a griping, nauseating, uncomfortable physic. It is a pleasing liquid combination of Egyptian senna, pepsin and aromatics that Dr. Caldwell, with his long and extensive practice, found effective and an aid to Nature in performing her proper functions when the bowels were mistreated through improper food, lack of exercise, and indifference to physical sanitation.

The first dose will gently ease the bowels to action and as Nature resumes her proper functions, the dose may be gradually decreased. Yourbowels should act at less twice daily. If they do not, you need Dr. Caldwell a Syrup Pepsis. 16.000,000 bottles sold ennually prove in effectiveness. Used nationally over 30 years. It is said everywhere medicine is said-and guaranteed. Try it at our risk. Your druggist will return your money if it fails to do as premised.

FACE COURT Criminal Action Follows Complaint in Operation of Film School

Arthur R. Roberts, also known as Bott Wilcox, and Daniel Shuler yesterday were charged with false advertising and operating an employment agency without a license from the State Department of Labor. The compilant, Issued by Deputy City Prosecutor Friedman, was signed by Louise Hickman of 916 West Thirty-fifth Place, and sworn to before Police Judge Chambers.

They were arrested last night and later released on $600 bail each.

They were arrested last night and later released on $600 bail each.

The criminal action against the man is the result of an investigation by the State labor office, which culminated in hearing last week when it was charged that Wilcox and Shuler are operating the Hollywood Studio Exchange, an ascerted film make-up school, in the Knickerbocker Building, 643 South Olive street, without proper license.

During the hearing Miss Hickman and other "students" of the school testified that they were promised employment in the films and were given the assurance that they were "just the type" needed. Several of the girls declared they had been taken to Hollywood on the pretext that they would meet directors and were insuited. Wilcox, according to the State Department files, was cited some time age for operating an alleged employment agency without a license. No action was taken when he is said to have agreed to discontinue operations.

TO ADDRESS CREDIT MEN George D. Marcy, manager of the Los Angeles branch of the National Surety Company, will address the regular meeting of the Los Angeles Bank Credit Men's Association at the Alexandria Hotel, the 14th Inst., on the subject, "Financing the Contractor." ARL LAEMMLE is a very shrewd old

He took one look at Gloria Swanson's "Madam Sans Gene," and all Napoleon bets were declared off as far as Universal

A big Napoleon picture had been planned for that studio, to be directed by Dimitri Buchowetzki. It has

Holbrook Blinn Could

There is only one actor in the world who could play Napoleon and get away with it: that is Holbrook

Certainly, the fat gentleman who attempted it in "Sans Gene" came very far from the mark. I am proud and happy to say I have forgotten his name.

A Tame Conqueror

He did well enough as long as he did nothing but look out of windows; but when he attempted to an-nihilate the fair Gloria with his imperial wrath he was anything but convincing.

Had his actions been turned into words, I think we would have heard him saying:

"But, lady, just look: Six cakes for a quarter. With this soap you don't hardly notice the washing at all; it's just like play."

The Eagle's Eye

Looking at this flaccid artist, I suddenly remembered what Napoleon himself once said, and I had to snicker. Napoleon said that if he could once look a man squarely in the eyes that man would, ever after, stand ready to die for him.

A Complicated Character

TO PORTRAY MAPOLEON (

Many actors have been able to play Abraham Linlin. A few have been able to play George Washington with a fair measure of success; but the screen

Napoleon is yet to arrive. The character is too complicated: Half-charlatan, half super-man. Faker and conqueror.

A chaser of women; a vain climber with a secret inferiority complex that shriveled in torture because the editor of the Almanac de Gotha de-clined to recognize him as having social standing;

yet a commander who could exact the most horrible sacrifices of rough

The Glory of Gloria

No WONDER THE B

ARE ALL OF NAPOLEONS.

Because of a ghastly anticlimax "Sans Gene" could not be called a good picture. It dies about two-thirds of the way across.
But Gloria was won

Some one has described her as alluring; but she is ore than that.

She has power and vital force and dramatic strength.

An Adoring Fan

A woman who describes herself as a housewife wrote me a letter the other day from Hollywood. It con-tains what seems to me a very vivid and remarkable description of Gloria. She described Gloria's arrival at the Lasky studio:

She described Gloria's arrival at the Lasky studio:
"I was eager to see face to face a woman, a very girl, who has (to use your words) by her own willpower and dogged determination and brains and hard work, not depending upon pull or money or looks, raised herself from an obscure extra girl to the most high-salaried woman of the world, I daresay, certainly one of the most famous.

"I have seen her pictures and watched her growth to an actress of power and conviction; I wanted to see ance.

"I lived near enough the studio to get a good place at Gloria's welcoming; it was more vociferous and happy and colorful than a President's would have been, for Hollywood was welcoming her most famous daughter to her bosom again. And . . Glorial Maybe I am a sentimental, innot but I was thrilled.

"If you were there you saw how she stood up when her machine slid to a stop and the band stopped and cheering subsided. She raised her hands in an inclusive gesture and with misty eyes began to try to talk. She got out, 'Oh, but you are all too good to me: I don't deserve all this,' the tears streaming, and then put down her head apparently sobbing."

Sweet and Warm

The letter conti

The letter continues.

"The Gloria that one sees in a picture shows striking features and a face beautiful with a rather hard, cold beauty. And her directors so long had her attitudinizing and grimacing that her real appearance was rarely manifest. I think they are just learning how to direct her, and she is asserting her genius.

"What I was going to say was that the camera, as is so often the case, misses so much of what sets her apart from others. There is something sweet and strong and warm about her. Genuine and gracious. Too genuine to be lightly dismissed. Besides, she is a mother and a great actress.

"The camera could never show the gleam of her teeth or her lovely, lovely blue-gray eyes. Tears made them look like violets with dew in their hearts and I am not being sentimental there."

and I am not being sentimental there."

The Great "He"

Hans Winter, a brilliant young Austrian journalist, has been spending some months of this winter in Hollywood. He told me an interesting story about the amazing vogue of Harold Lloyd in Europe.

He has such a hold on the German and Austrian public that they no longer advertise him as Harold Lloyd. They refer in the billboard advertisements simply to "He."

"He is coming." That is sufficient.

Will He Slip?

At that, Lloyd cannot be said to hold an unassailable position on the screen.

It would be very easy for

This is going to be a comedy year. He is going to have more competition than he has ever had before.

In particular, this coman particular, this competition is going to center very largely in two menone old to the screen—Syd Chaplin; and one newcomer—Harry Lang-

Two Famous Jesters

These two jesters who come to strike the shields of the other funmakers are an interesting contrast.

Syd Chaplin is thoroughly British. He is as English as Westminster Abbey. There is nothing sparkling or adroit or ironic in his humor. It is what the English call "fun;" and no one can deny that is hugely and enormously funny.

Everything in "Charley's Aunt" was older than the riddle about the hen crossing the street; there were no surprises. It was, in fact, a heavy josh. But it will clean up a big fortune. It makes you laugh just the way peeling onions makes you cry.

Harry Langdon's Humor

Harry Langdon is an entirely different type of Like Charlie Chaplin, he depends largely upon an idercurrent of pathos and pity for his humor. You laugh at Langdon; but you could cry just as easily.

Like Charlie, Langdon is a great actor, not just a great comedian; he is really an actor of the highest imagination and sympathy.

Wistful and Lonely

Yet this is not to say that he is anything like Chaplin-Charlie or Syd. He isn't like anybody who has ever been seen on the screen.

Through all Charlie Chaplin's stuff runs a bitter irony; the laugh of a man who has no more tears to shed.

There is none of this is Langdon's stuff. His humor is sweet and wistful. He always makes me think of the little boy who wasn't invited to the party and had to sit on the fence and watch the boys and girls licking up the ice cream

Sure-Fire Laugh

At that, I am not so sure of Langdon's success. If these were the old Roman days and somebody wanted to make me a present of a slave to earn money for me all his days, I would take Harold Lloyd. His stuff is absolutely sure. They might get tired of Syd Chaplin's rather obvious funmaking; they might fail to "get" Harry Langdon altogether: his humor is and

But Harold Lloyd's funmaking machine is like a

As I said above, he may not always be the top com-edian; but he will always be a sure-fire money-maker.

Menjou's Strike

At this writing, Adolphe Menjou is going away

He says he is going to Europe and stay there—un-less Lasky lets him out of his three years' contract. I never have been able to find out what all the shooting's about. Except for this: That Mr. Menjou thinks he is abused in that they ask him to work in too many

I imagine the real trouble is that they keep him play ing the same kind of roles. Menjou is a singularly adroit and charming actor. He has developed a kind of part—and technique to go with it—that is as much of part—and technique to go with it—that is as much his own as Douglas Fairbanks's grin. More than any other actor I have ever known, he has put brains and finesse into the business of acting.

Oh! How Wicked!

HEY,

IT WOULD DE JERY EASY POR YOU TO SLIP!

I see as many pictures as most people, and they all seem rather tame and Pollyanna-like to me.

Once in a while you see a young lady garbed in a bathing suit nearly as revealing as the high-school flappers of our best families wear on all the public beaches; once in a while you see a situation faintly suggest-ing the morals of any pop-ular novel of the day. But in general the morals of the movies are more cor-rect than a Wednesday-band.

Then just as everyone was inclined to fook on her as a beautiful clothes horse, Elinor Glyn took a hand. And, by the way, Madame Glyn is remarkably clever in the matter of developing features and various good points physically. She saw in Gloria characteristics and mannerisms which jarred with the real Gloria, certain habits of dressing, also. So she molded her. Thus, Gloria Swanson was discovered again. However, when Allan Dwan directed Gloria in "Manhandled"—to those who saw in that picture a new Gloria—it appeared that on Allan Dwan rested the appeared that on Allan Dwan rested the credit for really discovering her. As a matter of fact no one—and everyone—is responsible for Gloria Swanson. Each man and woman mentioned has developed her from a different angle, while the woman herself by hard work and ability did the rest.

De Mille Has Largest List

Viewed as a foster-parent with a discovery eye, Cecil De Mille has really quite the longest list in filmdom. He seems to fairly glory in scurrying about and bringing unknown people into featured fame. From a comedy career as leading lady for Harold Lloyd—in the role of nice young thing—Cecil De Mille saw in Bebe Daniels the exotic, the application of the company of the control o barbaric, the exhibarating, and featured her thus.

Jeanie MacPherson came into Mille's office intent on becoming the world's greatest actress. He gave her a job at $25 a week taking dictation in long hand, while she distinctly told him what she thought of him. Before four manuscripts were dictated she had added enough suggestions to revolu-tionize the business of script making. And the irritating thing was that she couldn't be snubbed, for her sugges-tions were for the most part excellent. So there was the embryo writer of all De Mille's stories—and a mind on which he admittedly leans for ideas and for inspiration.

Jack Holt was do ly when Cecil De Mille, seeing him on his horse, visioned in him the well dressed, sophisticated man of the world, instead of wild cowboy material. Thereafter, another Jack Holt ap-neared on the screen. Leatrice Joy peared on the screen. Leatrice is another discovery of De Mille's.

Perhaps the most interesting devel-opment was the bringing of Rod La Rocque from his inane experience as a typical leading man to play the dynamWins New Honors in War Play ic role of the bad brother in "The Ten Commandments." De Mille saw Rod in "Jazzmania" and certainly there was little in that picture to attract atten-tion to him. But the director saw in him a hurt boy look, the expression of a man stunned by a blow, youth hit in the face, or whatever that expres-sion of Rod's may be. It was just a glimpse but it convinced Mr. De Mille that Rod belonged in pathos, drama, conflict—a part where there would be psychological struggle.

Unending Line of Discoveries

Unending Line of Discoveries

The long line of the discovered—who through the years have come to fame through one or more persons' efforts—could stretch quite nicely from here to the distant, exotic South Seas. Harry Rapf, of the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, is a film man of power who is always able to realise the possibilities within people and aid them in developing the quality. Monta Bell and numerous others have progressed through his efforts and as present he has under salary three girls who are learning to write scenarios. Somewhere within them he has seen the germ of real ability and he is developing it, although their value to the organisation now is practically nil.

June Mathis is well known for her

June Mathis is well known for her discovery of Valentino and others, while to her and to Rex Ingram, it is asserted, the developing of Ramon No-

Avarro is due.

More than in the past, this is the day of new people—new taces and new ideas in the film industry. The box office horror of gambling with unknown office horror of gambling with unknown names has gradually given way. To the directors the chance to mold new material and new personalities has become quite desirable and those hardy men of finance, the producers, with an eye ever to the box office receipts have been won over. This is principally due to the fact that the trail has been successfully blased in the past—although it must be admitted that the fact that

It is really an exciting moment in lim history. There is an air of expec-iation to each new picture. It isn't apt to be "just" a film. It may be poor and it may be good but there is always the chance that some little unknows in the process of being discovered may appear so distinctly in his or her obappear so distinctly in his or ner co-scure corner of the picture that that giorious limelight will turn becoming-ly in his or her direction.

From the dance floors, the street corers, or anywhere about town or coun try, new discoveries may be roaming about now, just on the edge of being found—and today or tomorrow this person or that whom we have seen for years may suddenly be found to possees a personality quite the unusual upon which their future success may be based. Rediscovering discoveries has meanwhile developed into a game of chance in which all filmdom seems to be taking part.

is so obvious that, in striving to piece out what has happened, one loses the thread of the story for a time. When it is picked up again the newly married pair are well on the way to Cortez's cottage in the village.

Originality can scarcely be claimed as an attribute of the picture, but it is none the less entertaining for all that. Miss Nissen's personality— somewhat exotic and unusual—and the humor provided by Beery and Hatton are sufficient to carry along the interare sumcent to carry along the interest and the tempo of the production as a whole is breezy. The opening sequences, however, in which the characters are introduced, are inclined to slowness, but once the action is fairly started it runs along quite swiftly and evenly.

Cortez is the pivot about which the cortes is the pivot about which the picture revolves, but he is somewhat disappointing, particularly during the first half of the play. Every action is apparently studied and worked out beforehand, causing a decidedly unpleas-ant impression for the spectator.

To Wallace Beery and Raymond Hat-ton, as usual, go the real honors of the picture. While they are in a scene no other player is in the foreground, and though they have not the opportunity for characterization as in "Adventure," still their performances are most acceptable.

As the nouveau-riche mother of the girl, Lillian Leighton has seldom been seen to better advantage. Continually making faux pas, she is distinctive in a role that might easily have been overacted. Edythe Chapman, as Corter's mother, handles her part capably, too. Richard Arlen is a newcomer to the screen, but his work as Greta Nissen's brother is detily assented. sen's brother is deftly executed.

light as the Spanish girl, shimmery of mood, piquant, clever to her finger tips.

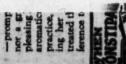

Pat O'Mailey is all I have said of him above and more. Harrison Ford plays the insolent, brilliant Spanish lover with an exquisite high comedy touch.

Trixie Friganza is a treasure. Why doesn't she appear in more pictures? There is nobody else like her on the screen. She has poise, shades of comedy, beauty and a marvelously striking personality that has nothing whatever to do with her plumpness.

The others are entirely adequate, including William J. Kelly, Rosita Maretini, Sojin, Evelyn Sherman, George Nichols, Margaret Seldon, Lillian Elliot and Priscilla Bonner.—[Grace Kingsley.

have both appealed to her public, and now she has embarked on a new adventure. This time she is doing a dual role.

The title of the new film is "Her Sister from Paris," and one of the roles that Connie assumes is that of a little Dulcy type, full of home thoughts, but minus all cleverness, smartness and up-to-dateness. The other is that of a frivolous young dancer from Paris, with an astounding heart-breaking reputation.

The story deals with the wife of a young author of Budapest, played by Ronald Colman, who disturbs her husband even at his work with her demands for sentiment and affection. When repulsed by him she leaves the family flat and, aided by her charming, if frivolous, sister, succeeds in turning the marital tables on him. The final climax is when she compromises her husband.

The two roles are of a type played by Constance Talmadge in the past and in both her popularity has been proven. Consequently, the combination of the two in one picture surely should be worth watching.

For a time Miss Talmadge encountered some baffling difficulties in obtaining stories, but those she has lately played in are apparently much better suited to her bright comedy talent.

It is really an exciting moment in finite really an exciting and an expectation of expectation to each new picture. It isn't app to be "just" a film. It may be poor and it may be poor and it may be poored in the chance that some little unknown in the process of being discovered may be process of being discovered may appear so distinctly in his or her observances.

"Where is she?" demanded Stella in a whisper to our escort, the rich Australian boy, Allan Powell, who is paying attention to Stella just now. But n had been fed up on royalty and nobility. What he wanted was a peek at a real live motion-picture star, and he was coming as near to staring as a well-bred boy can when the lovely Madge Bellamy loomed on our horizon.

"This is she," said Lou Tellegen, to whom we were handed over for presentation. We met a nice, bright, delightfully at ease but modest lady with blue eyes that are keen and kind at the same time. She might be just any nice, smart writing lady trying to get along. She wore a white sport hat and a dark green, noncommittal sort of dress that green, noncommittal sort of dress that seemed to say, "You see I'm a sport dress if you want me to be, but I could easily turn into an afternoon gown if you require it."

"Why, how simple and natural she is!" commented Stella, when we were finally seated a person or two below the duchess at the table.

"You don't suppose she trots out her whole string of beads for you at the very first!" exclaimed Allan in that lively Australian slang of his.

"Why," asked Stella-she would!-"Why do you prefer to be called merely Lady Hawes?"

"Oh," answered the guest of honor, "you see, duchesses should all be so straight and walk so properly, and I have rather a funny walk."

Lady Hawes said she didn't know where she would go from Honoluiu, which is her next stopping place. Maybe, she said, she would go right on to China—her plans weren't certain.
"Just imagine," whispered Stella. "being a real live duchess, all dressed up—and with every place in the world to go!"

"IN THE NAME OF LOVE" (Paramount)

"In the Name of Love" offers the screen public a new star, Greta Nissen, and a glimpse of a comedy team, Wallace Beery and Raymond Hatton, at its best, Suggested by Bulwer Lytton's old play, "The Lady of Lyons," the screen story was written by Sada Cowan and capably directed by Howard Higgin. Featured with Miss Nissen and Boary and Hatton are Ricardo Cortez, Lillian Leighton, Edythe Chapman and Richard Arlen all giving acceptable performances.

HIS is Miss Nissen's initial appearance in pictures, but her rare beauty and knowledge of pantomime, gained by years of study at the Royal Opera of Copen-hagen, should be popularly acclaimed. She is of the type not often seen on the screen, and while there is still room for improvement, her acting, for the most part, is surprisingly natural. Her factal resemblance to Anna O. Nilsson e to Anna Q. Nilsson is almost startling.

The nature of the story serves to prove her versatility. She is called upon to be, first, the young girl still in short dresses, then, growing up, the haughty and proud beauty and the loving and demure little creature. Though there is a suggestion of heaviness at times, her interpretation of the various moods is quite satisfactory.

The plot deals with a young man returning to France after years in America, obsessed with the memory of the little girl he loved as a boy, and whom he expects to find still loving and waiting for him. Arrived in his native town, he learns that his boyhood

Marshall Neilan, Cecil De Mille, Henry King, Harry Rapf, June Mathis, Rex Ingram, Elinor Glyn and others have really gathered to themselves quite an enviable reputation for possessing that discovery eye—the orb of discernment with which they are able to see in an apparently ordinary person the germ of something unusual and worth developing.

ic primal strength behind the apparent boy weakness of immaturity, and the result was "Tol'able David."

It was in that picture, too, that Ernest Torrence was discovered. He was shown as the stupendous brutal force with which Barthelmess struggled, and to Henry King belongs the credit of finding him. Although Torrence's role was entirely without humor James Cruse saw in him the ideal hulking humorous Bill Jackson for "The Covered Wagon." And so Torrence was discovered again. This time as a comedy actor par excellence.

Douglas MacLean is another discovery of Henry King. Who will ever forget that picture of war-time, "Twenty-Three and One-Half Hours' Leave," in which King directed MacLean and brought nim fame?

Who "Found" Gloria?

The question, "Who 'found' Gloria?" is one on which all filmdom seems equipped to express an opinion, and there are many disagreements. As a matter of fact it was Gloria who "found" Gloria, aided by the many who recognized in her various attributes for success. Cecil De Mille, glimpsing her in a Mack Sennett comedy, saw a vague something in one small scene which made him sniff drama in the making, and he took the funny little girl who, in his words, "looked like a cheap imitation of Valeska Surstt," and featured her in a group of divorce films, the first is claimed by any number and Ramon Navarro possesses all of three or four fond foster parenta ready to say, "Look at my boy, I gave him his first chance."

This dispute does not really mean at that any of them are wrong, for in the business of discovering, one person seldom is responsible for the whole process. That is why Marshall Nellan declares that there are no discoveries—it is just a matter of rediscoveries. For instance, several people have stated in against having her liberty curtailed, and he made her a featured actress in spite of herself. In short, he gave her a chance that most girls would have jumped at. But Saily, being a thoroughly modern girl, has simply made a slight grimace at all of the bother and goes her serene way. As yet, Nellan is free to confess he isn't sure just
